Chapter #3486

Zollie's Thoughts

March is here and winter is still holding on, hopefully we can get a day or so of riding in soon. Stay tuned to facebook and if and when weather permits we will put together a weekend with lots of activities in the chapter. We still have a lot of events planned for this month so be sure to read over the newsletter and keep an eye on facebook for rides. We are trying to plan more activities towards Smithfield to be closer for members in that area. Everyone please stay safe and see y'all soon.

SAFETY NEWS

Do's and Don'ts for keeping cool on the road

There are 6 things to remember to help keep you cool on the road. This month I am going to discuss three (3) things and next month I will discuss the next three (3).

As I've mentioned before, I'm an ATGATT guy (All the Gear, All the Time). But as temperatures begin to creep up, even the most devoted safety gear wearer can find it challenging to balance safety and comfort.

Here are the first three (3) do's and don'ts to help you stay comfortable, cool, and safe on your motorcycle when the heat is on.

1) DON'T Lose the Jacket:

One of the biggest mistakes riders make in hot weather is to take off their riding jacket and ride in a t-shirt or tank top. Not only so you lose the crash protection that a good jacket can provide, you're actually speeding the rush to heat stroke by exposing your skin to the elements. When you ride in hot weather, the wind speeds sweat evaporation. Your body produces sweat to cool you down, and the hot air rushing over your skin as you ride dries the sweat quickly-so your body sweats more. Dehydration occurs rapidly, and before you know it, you've got a headache, your riding suffers, and you're a danger to yourself and others. Find a hot weather riding jacket with high tech fabrics and good ventilation.

2) DO Hydrate:

Drink plenty of water, before, during and after the ride. Avoid caffeine drinks and also alcohol.

3) DON'T Lose the Helmet:

The same warnings apply to helmets that apply to jackets. Exposing your head to the elements while riding a motorcycle is just plain not safe. Sure, the wind in your hair feels great, but you're drying yourself out and raising your body temperature in a hurry. Find a good helmet with good ventilation. Your brain will thank you.
