Zollie's Thoughts

April is here and Winter seems to be trying to hold on. Hope everyone is doing great. Been hard to plan rides with the weather being so unpredictable lately. Spring has got to be near. Had a great meeting last month and thanks to all that made it. Lots of events coming up over the next few months, so please help if you can to push ticket sales hard. Everyone please be safe. See ya'll on the road.

SAFETY NEWS

Do's and Don'ts for keeping cool on the road

This month I will go over 3 more things to stay cool on the road.

As I've mentioned before, I'm an ATGATT guy (All the Gear, All the Time). But as temperatures begin to creep up, even the most devoted safety gear wearer can find it challenging to balance safety and comfort.

Here are the final three (3) do's and don'ts to help you stay comfortable, cool, and safe on your motorcycle when the heat is on.

- 1) DON'T Lose the Gloves
Think about falling off of your bike: What's the first thing that is going to hit the pavement? In all likelihood, it will be your hands. Hot weather gloves can be made from the same kind of high-tech materials and perforated leathers that we're finding in jackets nowadays. Just make sure that your gloves have sturdy, well protected palms for safety.
- 2) DO use Cool Wraps
Keeping some cool moisture next to your skin can help keep your body temperature from rising. Several companies make cool wraps that encapsulate moisture-retaining crystals within cloth. Soak the cool wrap in water for a few minutes, and then use the wrap as a neckerchief during your ride. It will keep you cool for hours.
- 3) DO Avoid the Midday Heat
Check the weather forecast before you ride. If it looks like a really hot day, consider heading out at dawn to take advantage of the cool morning air. Take a break from riding during the hottest part of the day- there's nothing like an afternoon nap under a shady tree to add to the vacation feeling. Then ride again in the early evening, when the heat abates.

DON'T be a victim of the heat.
