Meet a HOG Member

Meet James Davidson. He has been riding for 4 years. Encouraged to start riding by his parents, he purchased a 2001 Honda to see if he liked it. Mom would not let him ride until he passed the Safety Class. He got the bug. Now he rides a 2011 Road King. The safety class paid off. Recently while on a trip to the Outer Banks, a car pulled in front of him. Cool's teaching kicked in but he still laid the bike down. He always dresses for the slide not the ride. He walked away with bruises, a concussion, and 2 broken ribs. His body has healed but his bike is still in the shop.

Risk Level and Skill Level

There is nothing better than riding down the road on your motorcycle. The wind in your face and all of the beautiful places to see. Riding offers you something else... Experience. Every time you ride you face different roads, obstacles, and other drivers. So you gain valuable experience, you are honing your skills as you ride. Increasing your skill level reduces your risk level. A good rider reduces risk by making the right choice. We are all adults and we know right from wrong. Taking the curve too fast, or driving at excessive speeds are two of the most risky things you can do as a motorcyclist. So, I challenge each of you to lower your risk level by making good choices when you ride.

Be safe and ride,
Jimmy
